

A TESLA EVENING

Place: Goethe-Institut Washington
812 Seventh Street, NW
Washington, DC 20001-3718, USA
Tel.: +1 (202) 289 1200

Time: May 14, 2005 at 5 p.m.

Program:

Introduction by Dr. Ljubo Vujović, President of Tesla Memorial Society of New York

Newly released audio materials broadcasted on New York Radio after Nikola Tesla's death: Eulogy to Tesla made by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, and Tesla's favorite song "Tamo daleko" performed by Zlatko Balokovic

"TESLA AND KATHARINE", dance film, 52min, color, starring Konstantin Kostyukov with The International Ballet Company
Singidunum, Belgrade, Serbia and Montenegro
Director and producer: Ljiljana Kojić-Bogdanović
Choreographer: Krunoslav Simić
Music: Piotr Ilich Tchaikovsky

[This is a ballet story about private life of Nikola Tesla, one of the most significant scientists and inventors at the turn of the 19th century. The story is based on Tesla's correspondence with his best friends Robert Johnson, an American romantic poet, and his wife Katharine.]

A map with directions to the Goethe-Institut building and the surrounding parking lots and metro stations may be accessed at:

<http://www.goethe.de/ins/us/was/knt/anf/enindex.htm>

Suggested donation: $20.

The event is made possible by The Orfelin Circle and all donations will be used for further promotion and interaction of the Serbian culture with other cultures.

The Orfelin Circle
(www.orfelin.org)